The new Clinique Even Better cushion compact foundation is filled with soothing botanical extracts to deliver the nourishing benefits of chamomile, nourishing jojoba oil and a low-pore sunscreen. And for a polished look, it also contains a blend of pressed powder. Super-dense in texture, this cushion compact foundation provides a sheer foundation with excellent coverage and even skin tone. I like to use a cream foundation, but I don't like the heavy feeling of most creams. I also prefer the feel of a powder and the ability to control the amount of foundation I use. This compact-sized powder contains the perfect amount of powder so there's no need to add additional amounts. I use it for warm weather make-up, but it's also light enough to be used in cooler weather. I've never had a problem with control. Very comfortable to wear. I would definitely repurchase.
