I have a Magento based site, I was running tests on it, and I got a warning in var/reports/system.log : 2013-07-15T10:05:32+00:00 WARN: MessageStorage: Wrote data to /var/www/example.com/app/code/core/Mage/Core/Model/Store/Flag/Product/State.flag.php.gz: NOTE : I've tried to delete the file in several ways : uninstalling / reinstalling, removing the folder using rm -r, re-installing it from core.php, etc. But no matter what, the file remains. Here are my steps : These 3 steps did not help me to resolve the issue. The error appears again when I run the same test suite. Anybody already had a similar problem? Thank you for your help. A: This means that the product is saved when it is being deleted and you can't reset the state (or turn it off) for a product before it is created again. To fix, you can: Move your cache folder somewhere else Replace the cache folder with a fresh one Put your code in the test suite or some test helper class Use a tool that lets you simulate the deletion of the product. For example, the PeeGee TestCaseExecutor has the deleteProduct method that lets you do this easily:
