LocateIP is a software tool that can be used in order to help people in determining the actual location of any IP address, with a minimal amount of effort. The advantages of a portable app You are not required to go through the installation process, as this product is portable. This means that you can easily take it anywhere with you and run it on any computer, by copying the program files to USB thumb drive and clicking the executable. You should also keep in mind that LocateIP is not going to add any new items to the Windows registry and hard drive without your approval, and no leftovers are going to remain on the disk after you delete it. Easy-to-use environment and method of use The layout you come across is quite simple and modern, as it only encloses a few buttons and some boxes, in which to display information. Consequently, both power and novice users can find their way around it with ease. This program enables you to locate any WAN (Wide Area Network) IP with great ease, by inputting the address in the appropriate box and simply clicking the "Search" button. Almost immediately, it is going to display the city, country and state from which the IP originates, as well as the detected DNS. All data can be copied to the Clipboard, yet no other notable options are incorporated. Bottom line To conclude, LocateIP is a pretty handy piece of software for those interested in locating an IP address. The interface is user-friendly and the response time is very good. It runs without hindering the system's performance and without popping up errors, freezing or hanging.
